Code of Ethics to check Malpractices and Plagiarism in Research

Institute is committed to upholding the highest standards of ethics in research take all possible measure against any malpractices and plagiarism in research work. The ideas of originality, secrecy, novelty and morality are imbibed in faculties and they are made aware of wrong concepts of plagiarism. It is mandatory for the research faculty and supervisor to submit the declaration certificate stating that the work carried out by them is original and references and citations are as per norms. The research work of faculty should be published in reputed journals. To detect plagiarism instances and preventing the students from publishing or presenting others work as their own, teachers are supposed to check their research report through the online plagiarism software or access to software i.e. Urkund through university analyzer anilchikate.nmu@analysis.urkund.com it provided by KBC North Maharashtra University, Jalgaon, before submission of the dissertation for the plagiarism check, institutes strictly follows guidelines as per KBC North Maharashtra University, Jalgaon and university grant commission(UGC). UGC recommends zero tolerance policy on plagiarism in the core work claim. The core work shall include abstract, summary, hypothesis, observations, results, conclusions and recommendations. Levels of plagiarism in non-core areas upto 10% similarity would be excluded. Any case of plagiarism or malpractices is unacceptable and shall be dealt by Research Committee and concern will be penalized.
